Local Group Loud In Their Praise Of Medicine Hat's Hospitality; Idris Haysom Perfect Host To His Former Fellow Townsmen.

Alberta may have not one, but two, plays entered in the Dominion drama festival at Ottawa next month.

Group from Calgary and Edmonton may go.

Adjudicating the regional finals Saturday night, Actor Robert Stuart of the London, England, stage pronounced the Calgary Workshop 14 regional winners.

The Calgary Group's production Friday evening of the French farce, "Maître Pierre Pathelein," was given top honors of the six plays presented.

Individual honors were divided between the two plays. W. Atkinson, star of "Pathelein," won the trophy for producer and director of the winning play. 100 Blood Donors Wanted For Local Blood Clinic

Red Cross Clinic Desirous of Visiting Coleman in April, Energetic Drive To Be Launched Locally.

Miss A. Yuill and her committee in charge of local arrangements for the visit of the Canadian Red Cross Blood Clinic have started an energetic drive to secure 100 names, or more as blood donors.

Some weeks ago Mrs. McIntyre and Mr. Moss, Red Cross officials, visited Coleman and addressed a small committee on how the local campaign should be conducted. They expressed a desire to visit Coleman some Saturday afternoon in April. It was planned to work Blairmore Saturday morning, Coleman Saturday afternoon and evening and travel to Medicine Hat to hold a clinic there on the Sunday.

To make it practical for the clinic to visit the town at least 100 names must be available. The clinic can handle the 100 within a couple of hours.

Alberta is the second province to provide free blood to hospitals. However to maintain the service there needs to be a steady stream of blood arriving at the Calgary Red Cross headquarters. Coleman hospital has received word that the Red Cross and the local doctors are heartily in support of local citizens donating blood to the clinic. No person is refused blood whenever they need it for a transfusion.

Miss Yuill has already gained permission of the school Board to use the Domestic Science room in the high school for the clinic. A few weeks ago the local companies gave Miss Yuill their weekly advt. to solicit names and several came forward to record their names as donors.

Last Sunday Miss Yuill addressed the miners' union meeting asking for donors and union secretary Wm. White came to her support by addressing the members on that subject. On Saturday she will be at the bank to record the names of those who desire to donate blood.

Names of blood donors will henceforth be received at The Journal office, phone 209.

It should not be difficult to secure 100 names if the citizens of the community wish to co-operate in this humanitarian effort. Register today, phone 209.

MR. AND MRS. S. JANOSTAK PLAN ON RESIDING AT CASTLEGAR

Coleman may soon lose another of its oldtime couples in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Janostak. Speaking to The Journal on Tuesday morning Mr. Janostak remarked that they were giving serious thought to leave Coleman and reside at Castlegar. Castlegar is close to Sloan where the Herb Sherratts and the Frank Pattersons have taken up residence.

Pass Service Clubs Seek to Keep Turtle Mountain Playgrounds Swimming Pool Open This Summer

Unless financial aid is forthcoming from service clubs and other organizations throughout the Pass, it has been stated that Turtle Mountain Playgrounds swimming pool will not operate this coming summer.

This decision was made known to Coleman Lions club on Monday evening when a delegation of three from Blairmore Lions club attended the local supper-meeting and gave a brief summary of conditions which have prevailed during the past several years.

It was revealed that the proprietors had been taking a financial licking each year amounting from $800 to $1,000. Water cost $40 per month, light and power $50 per month, and instructor $150 per month, attendant, $80, plus expenses such as chemicals for the water, coal and miscellaneous items.

It was thought that if $3,000 could be raised it would be sufficient to operate the pool during the summer months. This money could be raised through carnivals, raffles, etc.

Lions clubs in Blairmore and Bellevue had chosen committees to study the subject and Coleman was asked to choose its committee. Blairmore Elks had also chosen a committee and Thursday evening Coleman Elks would debate the subject and very likely select a committee.

Coleman Lions appointed F. R. Duncanson and Herb Hewitt as its committee members.

A meeting of all committees to be called within the next week to discuss the subject thoroughly and determine how to raise funds to maintain the pool's operation.

Coleman Lions club suggested that in order to gain greater patronage from local swimmers, arrangements be made with one of the Pass bus owners to make special trips to the pool each day.

Chief Inspector of Theatres J. P. Barby was in town last week to inspect and give his approval to theatre construction plans and the town council has given permission for Coleman Hardware to put up a temporary building to get re-established in business while the permanent building is undergoing construction.

The Purnell Theatres have purchased the two lots formerly occupied by The Rite Spot and The Novelty Store and will construct the new Coleman Hardware store.

The Purnell brothers have already secured construction plans which have been drafted by an architect. The theatre will be of length, the front will be of tile. The building will have a steel roof and a steel arch.

Contractor Joe D'Appollonia has been awarded the contract for Coleman Hardware and has a crew of eight men ready to start work the first day that the weather modifies.

STAFF CHANGES

Armande DeLuca, who has been International time keeper for the past few years, has been given an assignment in the general office. Mr. Harold Simmons, who has been a clerk in the general office, has succeeded Mr. DeLuca as company timekeeper.

In order to show its appreciation of his good work throughout the year, it was decided to present him with a really good club bag with his initials inscribed thereon. The presentation was to take place at a meeting held Sunday morning.

According to the Act teachers are allowed twenty days sickness in a 200 day term. An item of $100 for substitute teachers was shown in the February financial statement and it created lively discussion. It was revealed that one teacher had failed to submit her doctor's line but that she had been paid her monthly salary. Secretary was instructed that under no circumstances in future could she deduct from her March cheque unless the necessary paper was forthcoming.

Three applications were received for the position of janitor for Coleman school. John Wavrecan, an employee of Zak's, was appointed to the job at a salary of $1950. Retiring Janitor Frank Patterson had asked the Board to give him the new janitor post for this week-end in order that he could show him his new duties.

The thirty-two years service given Coleman school boards by Janitor Frank Patterson was discussed by the board. His record had been an outstanding one and

Dave Young Honored By Hillcrest Mohawk Officials On Eve Of His Departure For Cadomin

Presented With Inscribed Gold Watch and Gissing Painting; Mrs. Young Presented With Bouquet; Succeeds Jack McLeod, Former Colemanite, As General Manager of Cadomin Collieries Ltd.

On Sunday evening, February 29, the entire official staff of the Hillcrest Mohawk Collieries Limited, Bellevue, Alberta, gathered in the dining hall of the Turtle Mountain Playgrounds to bid farewell to Mr. D. B. Young who will leave the Pass in March to act as general manager of Cadomin Collieries Ltd. at Cadomin, Alberta.

Following the sumptuous turkey dinner and with Mr. Henry Miller acting as toastmaster and master of ceremonies, a most delightful evening of informal entertainment was enjoyed by the friendly mixed gathering. In glowing and sincere terms Mr. Miller extolled the accomplishments of the youngest of honor had shown over the years while acting as general Superintendent of the Hillcrest Mohawk Collieries Ltd. in Bellevue. Employing realistic word pictures, the speaker recounted the planned and orderly manner in which the now stable and flourishing mining operation had been nurtured by the outstanding mining skill, remarkable judgment and boundless energy of its departmental general superintendent, Mr. Young. The financial ill and production-lame little 'zopher-hole' of 1939 certainly could not have been brought to its present state of rotund good health by a man of less vision than 'Dave' Young to whom the directors of the company had entrusted the direction of their carefully made long term plans. The company had always been proud, Mr. Miller declared, of its present state of mining degrees, certificates of merit, and engineering fellowships. In conclusion and before regretfully bidding him farewell, Mr. Miller presented Mr. Young with an unusually fine gold watch and chain.

Mrs. Frances Bond, Mrs. Sadie Sist and Mrs. Lorraine Brown were hostesses at a miscellaneous dinner, March 5, at the home of the latter in honor of Mrs. Victor Krazyk.

Court whist was played, honors being won by Milley Semazin, Mrs. Fred Fisher and Mrs. Steve Krazyk.

Following a dainty lunch the guests of honor were presented with a chest of silverware on behalf of the assembled guests. Mrs. Krazyk ably thanked those present and those unable to attend for their lovely gift.

Nationalism Seen Block To Reds

(Calgary Alberta)

"The greatest obstacle to Communism in Europe today is the national consciousness of the different separate states," Dmytro Andriewsky, a delegate to the Pan-American Ukrainian conference in New York last fall, told an audience at the Greek Orthodox parish hall Thursday.

Mr. Andriewsky, who now lives in Belgium, has been active in Ukrainian politics since he took part in the liberation of his country from Russian rule in 1918. He was in Belgium at the beginning of the war, but returned to the Ukraine in 1943. While going back to Belgium, he was arrested and spent five years in German concentration camps.

Mr. Andriewsky pointed out that officials of the anti-Communist underground had helped Ukrainians out of the country to escape from Russian rule. Of the 250,000 homeless Ukrainians now in concentration camps, Mr. Andriewsky stated, many were intellectuals who would be the leaders in any democratic rebuilding of the Ukraine.

tastefully engraved to commemorate the occasion on behalf of the official staff of the company.

In his well known but inimitable style, Mr. Young responded to the address, thanking those present for the gift which he would treasure through all his days and emphasizing the fact that only with the fine and constant co-operation of all the officials had he been able to so effectively carry out his work at the 'Mohawk' during the past years.

Mrs. Young was presented with a bouquet of roses and carnations by Mrs. Miller on behalf of those present and this was accompanied by best wishes for the future good health, happiness and success of the popular couple who will be so keenly missed in all local social circles.

Mrs. Young very graciously spoke in appreciation of the beautiful bouquet and, obviously deeply touched, expressed her regrets at leaving such a warm circle of friends.

Mr. F. J. Harquail, managing director of the Hillcrest Mohawk Collieries Limited, spoke glowingly of his own and the appreciation of the other directors for the valuable and faithful service rendered by Mr. Young at all times. On behalf of the board of directors, Mr. Harquail presented Mr. Young with a fine Gissel oil painting, and expressing his regrets at Mr. Young's departure, he wished him every success and happiness.

Brief farewell addresses were heard from Mr. N. F. Wm. Picard, purchasing agent, Mr. Roy Upton, accountant; Mr. J. Shearer, pitboss; George Youngberg, master mechanic; Mr. Victor Krazyk, chief electrician; Mr. Steve Lesson on behalf of the Fire-brothers; Mr. W. J. McLeod, general manager; Mr. Brown, district inspector of mines, and musical selections were rendered by Mr. A. Williams, engineer.

Mr. W. J. McLeod, general manager, Mr. Duncanson Brown of Calgary were the guests of honor. Mr. Young, in his function, Mr. Graves being one of the partners of Richardson & Graves, Chartered Accountants of Calgary and a member of the board of directors of the Hillcrest Mohawk Collieries Limited.

The enjoyable evening came to a close at an early hour with the singing of "For Christ the King" and "Good fellows" and "Auld Lang Syne."

Mr. Young is to assume his new position of general manager at Cadomin on March 15 succeeding Mr. J. McLeod who has retired due to ill health.

Enoch Williams Again Heads Hospital Board

A Hollingshead Appointed Vice-Chairman; Municipal Hospital Board Remains Unchanged Following Municipal Elections.

Enoch Williams, mayor of the town of Blairmore, was once again elected to the office of chairman of the Cross Street Pass Municipal hospital board at its first meeting Friday following the municipal elections held earlier in the month. Chairman Williams was first elected chairman of the provisional board in August, 1944, and has been appointed chairman of the board each year since.

A Hollingshead of Hillcrest, was re-appointed vice-chairman while A. Balloch of Coleman was re-appointed as secretary-treasurer and J. W. McDougall, of Blairmore, as auditor.

Work on the construction of the hospital was abandoned during the winter months. A crew returned to start work on February 1 but this particular month proved the coldest of the winter and March to-date has failed to show abatement on the severe weather with the result that construction is still halted. It is anticipated that construction will advance quickly once weather conditions become more favorable. December is now mentioned as the probable month when the hospital should be practically ready for occupancy.

Dominion Cerealists Retires

OTTAWA.—Dr. Leonard H. Newman, for 23 years a power behind the throne of wheat kings, has retired from the post of dominion cerealist.

He was appointed in 1923 to succeed the late Sir Charles Edward Saunders, developer of the world-famous Marquis wheat.

Under Dr. Newman's direction as head of the cereal division of the agriculture department's experimental farms service, have been evolved important new varieties, notably the rust-resistant Renown, Regent and Saunders wheats used in Western Canada.

Those and other varieties, Cornation and Cascade wheats, Vanguard and Beaver oats and Garnet and Reward wheats—have brought wheat-kings titles to many growers.

Dr. Newman, 66, was born at Meriville, Ont. He graduated from the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph in 1903 and did post-graduate work at Iowa State College, Cambridge University and at Svalof, Sweden.

From 1905 until his appointment as cerealist, he was secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association. In 1936 the University of New Brunswick conferred on him an honorary degree of Doctor of Science.

SAN MATEO, Cal.—The doctors thought Mrs. Lillian Arthur was joking when she complained something must have been left inside her after an operation two years ago.

But when they operated on the 30-year-old mother of six children recently, they found a surgical towel, 12 by 14 inches, in her abdominal cavity. The towel bore the monogram: "Harrison Mem. Hosp.", Bremerton, Wash.

The towel, neatly wrapped around Mrs. Arthur's intestines, was found by Drs. Henry Brown and Lawrence Martin, who performed an exploratory operation to find out what was wrong with her.

Mrs. Arthur had complained of pains and swelling since a Cæsarean operation two years ago when she gave birth to twins.

"I went back to the clinic and complained," she said, "and even jokingly suggested the doctor must have left his hat or his scissors in me."

Mrs. Arthur's husband, Frank, threatened to sue the hospital for the mistake. He said his wife had dropped from 250 to 150 pounds since the birth, had submitted to "scores" of blood transfusions and had spent nearly $30,000 in doctor bills since the Cæsarean was performed.

At Bremerton, Dr. Ray Schmitt, one of the physicians who attended Mrs. Arthur, said "Doctors don't talk about things like this."

"Anything can happen in an operation of this sort," he explained, "All sponges placed in the abdominal cavity are counted. But towels are so big we usually don't count them."

Already the great introductory plan of giving a package of Lipton Chicken Noodle Soup free from February 19th to March 6th, with every purchase of one half pound of Lipton's Tea is showing results in increased sales.

Ninety radio stations carried announcements and every grocery, general and fruit store was supplied with display material and full details.

As the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, they were married at Westminster Abbey in 1923. In celebrating their 25th anniversary at St. Paul's they are following the precedent set by King George V and Queen Mother Mary in 1918.

CORRECT ANSWER The young scoutmaster had just finished telling a small boy in his class the story of a lamb that had strayed from the flock and been eaten by a wolf.

"You see," she said, "had the lamb been obedient and stayed in the flock, it would not have been eaten by the wolf, would it?"

"No ma'am," answered the small boy. "It would have been eaten by us."

TAXI DRIVER HAS HARD TIME TO BREAK EVEN WITH FARMER

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn.—Taxi Driver James E. Roberson had a hard time breaking even with a farmer on a 20-mile taxi trip.

Loaded down with the farmer, his wife, two children, 100 pounds of cow feed and a heavy load of groceries, James started out for the farm.

A tire blew out near the farm and then the taxi got stuck in the mud. It ran out of gas in the mud battle.

The farmer went for a dollar's worth of gas and his mule team. He pulled the taxi out of the mud and back through it again after the groceries had been delivered.

James collected $5 for his fare and then forked over $4 for the farmer for pulling him out of the mud.

Dauphin Woman Given Credit For Success Of Clubs

WINNIPEG.—Edna McConnell of Dauphin, Man., only non-male agricultural representative in the province, frowns on the idea of women following her lead even though she has created an impressive record in her field.

"I don't think women can do the work of an agricultural representative," said Miss McConnell. "I got into it only because of the war."

But Dauphin district residents will have no part of Miss McConnell's modest contention. They think of the county, 34-year-old Miss McConnell for making their area "lopy" in the province where boys and girls farm clubs are concerned.

Miss McConnell became the first and only female agricultural representative in Manitoba in 1941 when John Conner, who held the Dauphin post, joined the air force. Previously she had been at Dauphin with the extension service of the department of agriculture.

Miss McConnell, who "grew up in agriculture" from her birth at her parents' farm at Petersfield, took normal school training at Saskatoon, then her degree of bachelor of science in agriculture.

Returning to Manitoba, she joined the Dominion-Provincial youth training scheme as itinerant instructor until she went to Dauphin in 1939 for the extension service. When she succeeded Conner she was first appointed acting representative but the province gave her the full title in May, 1946.

BADLY-PACKED PARCELS RETURNED FROM U.K. OTTAWA.—Scores of food parcels for Britain were recently returned to the Canadian postal department's Dead Letter Office in Ottawa from overseas, the Post Office Department said here.

The parcels were returned because in most cases the addresses had been torn off due to improper packing or the use of flimsy instead of heavy paper in packing.

WARDEN TAKES BOY-KILLER HOME

CANON CITY, Colo.—Rough, tough warden Roy Best said he is going to raise Jimmy Melton, 12-year-old convicted killer, "like my own kid."

"I can't put that kid behind bars to be with the toughest thugs and bums in the state," he declared. "I'm going to take him into my home, let him go to school."

"They sent Jimmy here for me to care for. The way I look at it, I can do it my own way. This is my way. I'm going to try it out."

Jimmy pleaded guilty at Las Animas to second degree murder in the killing of his sister, Phyllis Marie Melton, 16.

The boy, who was sentenced to serve not less than 12 years to life imprisonment, said he shot his sister because he thought their father favored her.

Mrs. Best took Jimmy on a shopping tour. She even let him buy a loud-colored cowboy suit. Then Best took the boy on a tour of the prison to see what he is missing but could be forced to take by mistakes.

British Pleas Futile For Soviet Wives

LONDON.—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told the House of Commons that he had been "reluctantly forced to the conclusion" that there is no hope for the Russian wives of 12 British ex-servicemen joining their husbands in England.

Asked if he would not limit the number of Soviet wives permitted to join their Russian husbands in Britain accordingly, Mr. Bevin replied: "I doubt very much whether it will be effective. I deeply sympathize with the husbands and deplore the Soviet attitude which remains entirely incomprehensible to us, but I have not indulged in retaliatory method yet and don't want to be driven to it if I can help it."

EDMONTON.—Oil produced in Alberta during 1947 was worth a record $17,000,000. It was estimated recently as it was revealed last year's production totalled 6,809,283 barrels, a decrease of 329,249 barrels from the 1946 production total.

SWIFT CURRENT.—The matter of bettering the type of entertainment now provided at most fairs and summer shows of that nature came in for discussion at a recent session of the Swift Current ministerial association. Much of the present type of entertainment is unsuitable members of the clergy contended, and tabled the matter in order to investigate it more fully.

WINNIPEG.—Manitoba suffered fire damage to "not more than 74,000 acres" of her forests in 1947, where as the average annual loss in the 25 years up to 1946 ran to 301,000 acres. Robson Black, president of the Canadian Forestry Association, said at a Winnipeg Canadian Club luncheon.

CARMAN, Man.—Elle Pierre Major ate a piece of angel cake and played a game of checkers recently and counted it a happy 100th birthday. The cake had been baked for the man who is one of Manitoba's oldest residents—if not the oldest—by Mrs. Gladys Gilbilly, a neighbor. Each year since 1914 she has made him an angel cake and he has never failed to eat a piece of it.

EDMONTON.—It's a big job to dismantle the Whitehorse refinery being moved to the oil company site just east of here. The 74-foot processing tower, weighing 76 tons, has been lowered and is the heaviest single unit to be shipped.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

THE BEAUTY AND HUNCH

By EDWARD EARL LEE

HUNCH MORANO had been able to devote just enough watchfulness to prevent the woman from raising an alarm. Now, after hearing her proposition, he ceased running the bureau drawer and focusing full attention upon her, straightened up. That is, thought Marilyn Brandwynne, assumed erect posture as his small, stoop-shouldered body would permit.

She noticed rat-like eyes mirror decision. To the scrutiny he subjected her, she presented the face that admirers complimented as being pretty as a daisy, and which she hoped now was just as impersonal.

"Cool," Hunch commented, mentally. Most dames would have been hospitalized cases by this time. Hunch had ascertained her quarters in this resident apartment hotel and effected a stealthy entrance. Warned to remain silent the woman had closed the book she had been reading and regarded him through untroubled eyes.

However, that emotionless attitude disappeared when Hunch demanded the diamond necklace he had noticed her wearing when she had left a restaurant and the reason for his trailing her home. It was then that she rose and offered to reveal it.

Hunch cocked his head suspiciously and asked: "What's the idea?"

"You're determined to get the necklace. I may as well tell you where it is and be rid of you all the more quickly."

"It was sure you were on the square."

"Here's proof. Open the second drawer. Find the false back. That's it. Press it and... Oh, you have it."

Hunch's bony fingers fondled the necklace as he gloated: "Some haul! It's worth a grand, sure."

"I'll make a deal with you. My husband gave me that necklace on our second anniversary. A week later, he died. I cherish it."

Marilyn opened a large pocketbook on the table and let tumble out a roll of currency.

"Five hundred dollars," she said in a bargaining tone as she replaced her purse atop the book just under the telephone cradle. "It's all yours, if you leave the necklace."

Hunch scratched his head with gummy fingers, eyes narrowing speculatively as he said: "Make it a grand."

"No! That necklace is too hot for you or anyone else to dispose of whole. Broken up, after the fence gets his share, you will be lucky to obtain two hundred dollars. After you leave, I can furnish the police with your description. Two hundred dollars won't carry you far enough to escape their dragnet."

Hunch, surprised by her words, attempted to reach the upper hand. He endeavored to straighten his shoulders; to force a harshness into his voice, saying: "It will, if I kill you!"

Actually aware her life might depend upon this answer, Marilyn forced her speech to remain firm, replying: "You're a sneak-thief, not a murderer."

Scarcely breathing, she waited. Her half eyes contemptuously returned his glare. One tense moment thus and the bluster in Hunch's eyes waned, despite all his efforts to the contrary. He glanced downward, saying:

"Okay. Gimme the cash."

"That's what you think?"

Hunch whirled in the direction of that third voice. His eyes bulged as they took in the sight of the hulking man crouched in the shade and whose right hand held a service pistol on a level with his stomach.

"All right, punk, turn around!"

As Hunch complied the stranger crossed from his position in the adjoining room's doorway and frisked the intruder with professional thoroughness. Finished, he handcuffed his prisoner and holstered the weapon said to the tenant: "I am the hotel detective, Mrs. Brandwynne. I hope this mug didn't cause you a great deal of unpleasantness. I came up soon as I could and entered with a passkey, your bedroom that opens into the corridor. I figured to surprise him that way."

"You certainly did. It was a commendable job."

"You didn't do so badly yourself. I still can't figure out how you let the switchboard operator in on what was happening while this punk was sticking you up. You see, the girl called me and said I'd better investigate a conversation going on in your room concerning a 'hot necklace' and some 'fence's share' and about a 'murderer'."

"It was very simple. After removing the money, I replaced my pocketbook in such a manner that it tipped one end of the cradled telephone. The released pressure signaled the operator and the reacted just as I planned she would."

Council to Impose Poll Tax Within Town

Endeavor to Help Alleviate Heavy Taxation Burden on Ratepayers by Causing Single Men and Renters to Pay Tax.

Regular meeting of the council was held on Tuesday evening. Present Mayor Abousafty, Councillors Dutil, Ramsay, Lowe and Wood.

Complaints regarding garbage collections are pouring into council. It was decided to put two trucks to work to clean up garbage as quickly as possible. Works and Property committee was authorized to give the subject detailed study and bring in a recommendation at the next meeting regarding garbage collections and method of payment to the garbage collectors, whether to maintain them on a monthly salary basis or put them on an hourly wage rate.

The Building committee reported that the Fraser residence on Sixth street was causing a public nuisance due to rotted base timbers allowing the building to rest heavily against an adjoining ratepayer's building. A letter was authorized to be sent to the executors of the Lily Fraser estate asking that the house be put back on its own supports.

Collins & Collins, Calgary auditors, were appointed town auditors for 1948.

Wm. Antle, in his positions as Chief of Police and Fire Chief submitted his report. It was revealed that many hours of firefighting had been chopped off the original list submitted to council.

Lorenz Shoe Store asked council's recommendation to the provincial government that it be permitted to carry other lines of dry goods. Request granted.

Mrs. L. Hannah asked council's recommendation to the provincial government for a Beauty Parlour license. Her request was tabled until she appeared before council in person.

School and town budgets were discussed as well as increases in salaries to teachers, janitors and town employees. While the school budget was not presented Finance chairman John Ramsay gave council an insight into the expenses the town will likely incur this year. The budget will be the subject of a full dressed debate at the next meeting.

In order to help alleviate the heavy taxation burden on the ratepayers discussion centered around a poll tax being levied on single and married men who are wage earners, pay no property tax and who reside within the town. It was stated that the government collected poll tax from such persons residing outside of town. Additional revenue from this source was estimated between two and three thousand dollars. During the past several years no poll tax has been imposed on this group and it was thought that they should help bear some of the taxation burden. Notice of motion was given to place authority for levying poll tax on the statute books.

A $10 grant was given the Canadian Appeal For ChildrenFund.

THE GILLESPIE CLAN IS CONGREGATING FOR THE BIG EVENT

Thursday, to-day, marks a milestone in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Gillespie who to-night will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary with a quiet family re-union in the parental home.

To-morrow (Friday) night will be the really big event of the celebration as a committee of friends aided by members of the Gillespie family are staging a supper, concert and dance in the I.O.O.F. hall where friends will meet to honor the esteemed couple.

On March 20 the Pythian Sisters and Knights of Pythias are combining to honor the couple on the occasion of their golden wedding.

Sunday morning Mrs. Bert Westworth and young daughter arrived from Cadomin and on Monday morning Mrs. Wm. Tuckler, Maisie, Mrs. David Nevey, Mary, and family, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Picard, Peggy, and daughter arrived from Vancouver. Mrs. E. Fortna and daughter have arrived from Champion and Mrs. F. Sanderson and family, of Kimberley are also here for the celebration.

HOUSE-WARMING PARTY

Thirty friends gathered at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heck on Saturday evening at a house-warming party and to welcome the honored couple to west Coleman where they have taken up residence. A most enjoyable social evening was held, lunch being served by Mrs. Heck while the musical entertainment was supplied by Mr. John Salus and his accordion.

During the festivities, Mrs. Anne Vasek, on behalf of the assembled guests, presented the honored couple with a beautiful floor lamp. Mr. Heck expressed thanks for the gift and appreciation for the wonderful welcome received by Mrs. Heck and himself upon taking up residence in Coleman. The party continued until the early hours of Sunday morning.

A DASTARDLY DEED

Whether or not council did right or wrong in asking persons guilty of looting to bring back to the town hall the articles they took from the burnt out debris one can only judge from his own observations. One thing is clear however, the looters failed to heed the warning published by the council as nothing was returned. Only a few little boys returned some junk.

One person unknown should hang his head in shame however at his dastardly deed. As is well known the Gentile residence was ransacked. The axel on which Mr. Gentile had his shoe brushes, sand stones, etc. was stolen and following the publishing of council's warning to looters the axel was found in the Old Man river.

HARD STARTING of your car these cold mornings could be for one of several reasons.

Probably it's only a low charge in your car battery.

It could be loose connections between the battery and the starter or too wide an adjustment of spark plug gaps. EASY TO FIX.

Methods For Defense

AT THE PRESENT TIME THE PROSPECTS for establishing permanent world peace could not be said to be encouraging, but neither is there reason to believe that a third World War is inevitable. In no country is there greater hope for lasting peace than in Canada, for although we were not subjected to direct attack, this country has participated actively in two great wars in the last thirty years and has learned the great cost of modern warfare in men and resources. It is now realized, however, that with the present rapid developments in aeronautics, we would be liable to attack in another war, regardless of where hostilities should break out. With this in mind, Canada's armed forces are being trained in advanced methods of defense, although it is earnestly hoped that it will never be necessary to call them into service for this purpose.

Learn Lessons From The Past

In this, as in many other things, an attempt is being made to profit by the lessons of the past. Had Western Europe been well prepared for attack in 1940, the Germans might not have set out on their great program of aggression, or had they started, they might have been successfully turned back. Preparedness against attack by peace-loving nations may indeed be a powerful instrument in discouraging aggressive warfare, and in training an efficient defense force for Canada is in no way giving up hope for a lasting peace. In training her armed forces Canada is also profiting from experience gained in the last war, and is emphasizing the value of combined action of the army, navy and air force in modern warfare. The effectiveness of such co-ordination was proved by the Germans in their "blitzkrieg" attacks in the early part of the last war, and in the gigantic combined operations used by the Allies in the invasion of the continent.

Officers Now Being Trained

At the National Defense College at Kingston, Ontario, officers are now being given training in inter-service co-ordination, as well as in the industrial mobilization which is required for war. They are also receiving instruction in international politics with emphasis on the underlying political situations which lead to war. As a further step in broadening officers' training, provision has been made to re-open the Royal Military College at Kingston next fall, and to admit cadets from the three armed services. At the Royal Roads Naval College at Victoria, air cadets have already been enrolled and next September army cadets will also be admitted there. In this way reserve officers will be trained in the very important matter of co-operative action among the three armed services. While it is not pleasant to contemplate the possibility of another war, there should nevertheless be appreciation of the fact that thought is being given here to the need for preparedness in these uncertain times.

For the Vitamin B₁₂ iron and other needed minerals in this time-tested tonic help build up your vitality and aid in toning up the entire system—so you can face the future with confidence. May Develop Perennial Wheat In 10-20 Years

University Of Saskatchewan Scientists Say Plenty Of Time Needed To Cross Wheat And Grass Plants

SASKATOON.—University of Saskatchewan scientists estimate 10 to 20 years may be needed for completion of experiments that hold staggering possibilities for western agriculture—development of perennial wheat.

Cautious researchers will make few predictions except that plenty of time and a fair amount of luck are involved in crossing thousands of wheat and grass plants to obtain a bread wheat that will come up every spring without seeding.

But many agriculturalists say perennial wheat, if developed, might be a shot in the arm for western farming.

A perennial wheat would mean a tremendous annual saving in seed and labor costs. The heavy root structure characteristic of perennial plants would aid soil and moisture conservation—vital on the Prairies with uncertain rains and persistent winds that sweep away precious top soil. The straw probably would have a higher nutritional value for the soil than would straw from annual wheat.

Achievements to date are growing in a greenhouse plot comprising less than 50 square feet. From crosses of wheat with a hardy native grass made in 1938 Professor L. H. Sholewski has a few prize perennial plants with normal wheat heads but a stalk that stays green even after the head has ripened.

But the plants are too tender for rigorous western climates and before the strain is ready for the farm, resistance to cold, drought, insects and disease must be bred into successive generations.

With only the best specimens of each generation suitable for further breeding, Professor Sholewski said "It is very improbable that a perennial wheat of economic importance for western Canadian agriculture will be produced in the next decade or two." The work started in Canada in 1928, was interrupted by war in 1941 and resumed in 1945. Similar experiments began in Russia in 1928.

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

The prospective father-in-law was interviewing his daughter's young man.

"And what are your prospects?" he inquired.

"Oh, pretty good." Unless your daughter's misled me," was the reply.

"I see you advertised your saxophone for sale," said the friend.

"Yes," he sighed, "I saw my neighbor in the hardware store yesterday buying a gun."

Recent war bride to magistrate: "I can't stand it any longer. My husband actually swore at me. And I was learning to drive just to please him, too."

Magistrate: "What did he say?" "He sat there in the ditch and said, 'Holy cats, woman, didn't you see that truck.'"

"How many fish was it that you said you caught Saturday, Ernie?"

"There were six of them, dear. Don't you remember?"

"Yes, that was what I thought you said, but that fish market has made a mistake again. They've charged you far right."

Prisoner: "There goes my hat. Shall I run after it?"

P. C. Casey: "And not come back! No. You stay here and I'll run after the hat!"

"So your wife takes in washing?" the judge asked a man who was up for vagrancy. "What do you do?"

"Well, judge," explained the accused, "I takes in the washing, the old woman does the washing. I takes the washing back, the old woman collects the money and I talks her out of most of it."

$1,500,000 Unclaimed In Canadian Banks

OTTAWA.—A cool $1,500,000—not in one big beautiful pile, mind you, but in the ledgers of banks from coast to coast—is just sitting there waiting for people to come along and claim it.

Canada's banks told the same old wonderful—but almost unbelievable—story of unclaimed balances, dividends, certified cheques, drafts and bills of exchange.

Tabbed in the commons were the annual, straightforward reports of 12 Canadian banks conforming routinely to the requirements of subsections 1-1 of section 117 of the bank act.

They said that supposedly better-heeled persons have apparently forgotten the tidy sum of $1,431,477.25. The unclaimed sums range from 71 cents to $24,623.12. The address of the woman in whose name that big amount is listed as "unknown." Many of the thousands of dormant amounts run into four figures but by far the greater majority are the savings of little people—$10.27 and $29.03 and $21.94.

There's $13.14 at Edmonton waiting for the "Klu Klux Klan" to come and collect.

Seek To Recover Ore From Lake Bottom

FLIN FLON, Man.—Two Flin Flon men disclosed they hoped to recover copper ore which has been at the bottom of Cumberland Lake, 125 miles northwest, since barges carrying the ore were sunk a quarter-century ago.

Johnny Johnson and Stan Schultroth said they estimated close to 300 tons of ore now valued as high as $100 a ton had gone to the bottom.

The ore, from Flin Flon mines, used to be loaded on barges which were towed to the rail head at Cumberland House. Thence it was freighted to the smelting town of Trail, B.C. It was on one of these trips that several barges sank.

Members came from Ontario and all western provinces. Wilmet McComb of Hayfield, Man., presided, and P. J. Hoffman, the veteran secretary of Annahelm, Sask., presented encouraging reports of progress for the year, touching on breeding, sales, and production. EATS BREAD-AND-MILK DIET TO PROTEST H.C.L.—Sitting down to a supper of bread and milk for the fourth consecutive day in protest against the high cost of living, Mrs. Ruth Berbes, 24, of Chicago, looks at her smiling husband who is dining on a fuller menu, but she remained resolved to stick to her diet. Mrs. Berbes went on a daily diet of five slices of bread and two glasses of milk recently when she found that the combined weekly earnings of herself and her husband, $80, were barely enough for food and rent. She is urging others to follow her example feeling that similar action by one million women would make a deep impression on the country's grocers.

WORLD DIGNITARIES PRAISE HONOR ROLL—The album of honor held here by Beth Norman is made up of the names and pictures of thousands of Brantford and Brant county, Ont., service men and women. Copies of the album were sent to the King, Eleanor Roosevelt, Field Marshal Montgomery, President Truman, Gen. Eisenhower, Winston Churchill, Gen. Marshall and Rt. Hon. Ian MacKenzie, former minister of veterans' affairs, and all wore back paying tribute to the idea.

DUCK RIVER FLOODS TENNESSEE TOWN—One hundred and fifty families were made homeless when the Duck river overflowed its banks into low portions of the town of Shelbyville, Tenn. Many other homes on high ground were flooded by two to five feet of water from torrential three-day rains. Photo shows the centre of the town, flooded residential section along the river, and the Nashville highway, the only passable road.

NO PRIZE OFFERED TO FIGHT ATOM—Charles F. Kettering, former head of General Motors research, who is residing in Miami Beach, Fla., said he was told not to offer a $15,000 prize to the scientist developing the best plan of defence against the atomic bomb. Kettering did not say who told him to withdraw the offer, but he said the plan was turned down "because it would cause the bomb to lose its diplomatic value."

TWO WAR CRIMINALS SENTENCED TO LIFE—Hitler's commander in World War II, Wilhelm List, former German field marshal, (left, front), found guilty of war crimes in the Balkans, was sentenced to life imprisonment by the Nuremberg tribunal. Lieut.-Gen. W. Kuntze, (right), also was sentenced to life.

DALI TELLS MODERN ARTISTS THEY MUST LEARN PAINTING—Modern art, already reeling under attacks from half a dozen sources, took an unexpected upsurge recently from its high priest, Salvador Dali of New York. Senhor Dali, at work above, is heart and soul with the art modernists. But he wishes to high heaven they knew how to paint. Dali accused modern art of being often "frivolous in content and lazy in execution." Dali, in benign mood, even had it in his heart to understand—although he does not sympathize with or approve—the recent action of the Boston Institute of Modern Art, which changed its name to the Institute of Contemporary Art in protest against modern art trends.

YEMEN KING SLAIN—The Arab League announced that Abdullah bin Ahmed of Wazir had been proclaimed king of the Arabian kingdom of Yemen, on the Red Sea, to succeed King Yahya. Abdul Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary-general of the Arab League, said a mission will leave Cairo for Yemen soon to investigate reports that King Yahya and three of his sons were murdered in a palace revolution. Death of the aged warrior king, one of the most absolute monarchs in the world, has been reported to Cairo. Whereabouts or fate of Prince Saif-Al-Islam Abdul, sixth son of the dead ruler, was not known.

"INCIDENT" IN "NO-MAN'S-LAND"—Between Jewish Tel Aviv and Arab Jaffa lies the most active no-man's-land in Palestine. It is surrounded by snipers of both sides and fires are started daily in Jewish or Arab shopt. The local news tickers record "just another incident" when fire or death occurs, but after each incident the British army men search all persons, both Jew and Arab, in the area. Just such a search is taking place here as suspects are lined up before a fire-gutted building. Most streets in the no-man's-land are a mass of rubble.

"They couldn't walk like other children"

It was a great day at Last Bend when they bundled the little girls with the twisted legs into the waiting plane.

Few people come to Last Bend. Few leave. On the map the place isn't even marked. Dotted lines indicate the river course—aimless as the lives of the crippled children whose poverty-stricken parents owned the two-room shack.

Margaret had been born up there in the bush, about 400 miles south of the Yukon border. It is a tough country, even for hard-bitten woodsmen and trappers. It demands strength and stamina. Margaret had neither. Instead, she had congenitally-deformed hips.

Only fourteen . . . and helpless. A doctor, explaining matters in lay terms, would have said that they were out of joint—the femurs parted from the sockets. Margaret merely knew that she couldn't walk like other children. Her feet turned outwards at right angles. She moved haltingly, fearfully, as if she were very old. But Margaret was just fourteen.

She had been ten when Jean arrived—the little sister of the dark solemn eyes, the quick intelligence.

But a little sister born, like Margaret, with cruelly-dislocated hips.

A school teacher came to Last Bend. Margaret learned something, then, of the world beyond the bush; heard whispered references to hospitals for crippled children. But, of course, her case was hopeless. It always had been.

Into another life.

Yet it happened. The plight of Margaret and Jean came to the attention of the Red Cross. One morning a plane landed at Last Bend. Now—in friendly wards among cheerful, hopeful children, Margaret and Jean are being treated and schooled. Already Jean is walking better—much is hoped of an operation. Her limbs will not be conspicuous—not for her life of an "uply duckling".

For Margaret, too, a brighter future beckons—after an uphill fight. Age makes a difference. And 14 years is a long, long time . . . at Last Bend.

When you are asked to "help support the Red Cross," remember: It is to such hospitals and other Red Cross services for the relief of suffering, that your money will go.

The work of mercy never ends . . . Give generously to the CANADIAN RED CROSS
